Three-Mile Wedge Driven Into Jap Borneo Defenses

Australian Tanks And Infantry Smash Toward Sambodja Oilfields

GEN. MACARTHUR
ANNOUNCES GAINS

By FRANK ROBERTSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MANILA, July 12.—Australian tanks and infantry drove for the Sambodja oilfields of eastern Borneo today, battering a three-mile deep wedge into Japanese positions in the Balikpapan area.

Troops of the Seventh Australian division, after repulsing a sharp enemy counter-attack on Monday, hammered their way forward for three miles toward Mount Batocamp, where the Japs were believed to have concentrated in some strength after the fall of Balikpapan city.

After crushing the first strong opposition, the Aussies pushed forward but met only moderate resistance. They reached positions scarcely one-half mile from the foot of the wooded heights.

Other Australian units crashed through the first line of Japanese defenses east of the captured Mangar airfield, 14 miles to the east. The Aussies' way was prepared by a heavy softening-up bombardment by naval and air forces.

Announces Gains
Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced the land gains in his regular communique, which added:

"Our air forces and light naval units attacked enemy troops and supplies concentrated throughout Borneo, causing large explosions and starting numerous fires."

MacArthur had nothing to report on operations by the Ninth Australian division in northwestern Borneo. At last word, these "Diggers" were advancing north from Beaufort toward the rail terminus of Jesselton, northeast of Brunei Bay.

News that very little victory garden corn has been seen so far to have grown knee-high, in this district.

Postmaster Hanna tells a good one about a local girl who writes as many as seven or eight letters a day to her boy friend in service. The other day she wrote on the back of one of the letters, instead of the customary "SWAK," "Open This One First. It's a Hot One."

Contributions totaling $728 were reported today by State Secretary of Highways John U. Shroyer to have been made recently by three persons to the department's "confidence fund." He explained that money and stamps were forwarded by the individuals for the payment of gasoline taken from a road roller, a seven-cent toll "skipped years ago" and for $1.28 which was stolen by a former department employee.

Reveal 87,599 Purchases Of Bonds In Drive

Near final figures on the seventh war loan campaign in Lawrence county only serve to accentuate the usual record the county made when it doubled its over-all quota for the campaign.

One outstanding figure in a set of unusual statistics shows there were 87,599 subscriptions for bonds in the county during the campaign. This does not mean that 87,599 different persons purchased bonds out does mean a wide spread in sales and many repeat sales. From this figure, thousands of citizens must have purchased more than one bond.

The opinion of the bond officials outside of the county are best indicated in a letter received by Roger (Continued on Page Two)

Jap Infiltration Effort On Okinawa Quickly Smashed

OKINAWA, July 12.—(INS)—An American platoon smashed a night infiltration attempt by remnants of the defeated Jap garrison on Okinawa early today.

Lieut. Tony Bogaards, Long Beach, N. Y., brought up a platoon to reinforce the American patrol after the firing was heard.

The Americans suffered no fatalities but had six wounded.

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, July 12.—The arrival of Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery in Berlin was announced today as the military forces of the United States and Britain took over complete control of respective zones of occupation in the German capital.

The purpose of the visit by Marshal Montgomery, commander of all British occupation forces in Germany, was not disclosed immediately. Further word on the length of his visit was expected shortly.

The decision under which the Americans and Britons assumed full authority in territory formerly held by the Russians was arrived at yesterday at the first normal meeting of the Kommandantur, the Allied governing body for Berlin.

Temporary Agreement

The agreement ended Soviet control in southern and western areas of Berlin at 9 a. m. but provided temporarily for the continuance of civilian conduct rules previously established by the Russians.

Also temporary was the immediate arrangement whereby the Americans and British will supply the population in the sectors of their jurisdiction with food from their respective occupation areas in other areas of Germany.

The arrangement under which an estimated 1,650,000 residents of Berlin came under control of the American and British military governments, eight days after the entry of U. S. troops into the capital, was made by the respective military governors of the U. S., Britain and Russia.

Acting for the United States was Maj. Gen. Floyd Parks for the British, Maj. Gen. L. O. Lyne and for the Soviets, Col. Gen. Alexander V. Gorbatov. A French representative also was present, but the zone assigned to the French will remain unchanged for the time being.

Senator Taft Assails Bretton Woods Proposal

WASHINGTON, July 12.—(INS)—Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) today assailed the Bretton Woods monetary fund and bank proposal in a Senate speech as "a camouflaged method of lending billions of dollars of American money abroad."

Taft asked the Senate to delay action on the bill until after the summer recess instead of taking it up Monday.

Taft called the bank for rehabilitation and development "a device for draining our savings out of the United States for the benefit of the rest of the world."

The monetary fund, to stabilize the world's currencies, was termed by Taft as "another device for transferring two and three-fourths billions of American dollars into the hands of foreigners."

The Ohio senator advocated instead that the American government make loans directly to help foreign nations buy machinery and rebuild their economies. "It should be recognized that they may never be paid," he said.

SEATTLE, Wash. July 12.—(INS)—Reporting its warehouses are "glutted," Fry & Co. of Seattle today asked the OPA and Secretary of Agriculture for a "point holiday" on cheese.

Will Surrender Power

"If we join the Bretton Woods agreement, congress will surrender its constitutional power over the coining and valuing of money," said Thomas.

He said the United States is the only one of the 44 nations in the Bretton Woods agreement that would be putting up "real money."

All nations, he said, will want American money.

First Threat To Speedy Action On Charter Is Seen

WASHINGTON, July 12.—(INS)—Demand for prompt action on the Bretton Woods monetary agreement today raised the first threat of delay in the "speed-up" senate consideration of the United Nations charter.

The senate foreign relations committee, with CIO President Philip Murray and John Foster Dulles scheduled as the major pro-charter witnesses for today and tomorrow expected to have the security treaty ready for the floor by Monday.

Sen. Tom Connally (D-Tex.), committee chairman, has insisted that the charter be given the "right of way" over all other legislation.

May Call Up Monetary Pact

But there were indications that Senate Majority Leader Barkley (D-Ky.) planned to call up the Bretton Woods agreement Monday and have the senate dispose of that before opening debate on the charter.

Senate leaders anxious to have the monetary stabilization proposal approved at once contended it would (Continued on Page Two)

Official Silence On Fleet Causes Anxiety To Japs

New Invasion In Japan's Pacific Area Is Being Predicted By Enemy

AIR OPPOSITION OF JAPS IS WEAK

By JOHN E. HENRY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

GUAM, July 12.—Powerful elements of the U. S. Third Fleet still prowled the far Pacific today, their position cloaked in official secrecy which increased the nervousness of the Japs who anxiously predict an invasion.

Quoting the Tokyo newspaper Mainichi, one Jap broadcast said the raid "indicated that the enemy's offensive move against the Japanese mainland has now entered upon a new stage." This broadcast said there were not yet any signs of "immediate landing operations to follow up" the assault.

Fleet Moves Not Known

Spearheaded by Task Force 38, whose carrier planes destroyed 154 Jap planes in the first few hours of their Tuesday assault on 79 to 89 airfields and military targets around Tokyo, the fleet maintained a strict radio silence. It was unheard for some 48 hours, and Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz tersely announced that "further information" concerning the strike "is not available."

According to the Japanese radio, the battleships, cruisers, destroyers and destroyers—26 of which identified by Nimitz to show his disdain of the enemy—withdrawed slightly to the south after taking aboard the 1,000 to 1,200 planes which wreaked destruction on the enemy's capital area.

Jap Report Says Allies Plan To Land On Nicobar

NEW YORK, July 12.—(INS)—Mounting indications that the Allies planned a landing assault in the Nicobar Islands in the Indian ocean, were reported by the Jap Domei agency today coincident with an announcement that 210 British carrier planes had attacked Sabang, off the northern tip of Sumatra.

Domei said that "the enemy has recently laid booby traps in waters adjacent to the Car Nicobar group."

Attack On Sabang

Allied military action at both ends of the Jap-occupied Netherlands East Indies island of Sumatra, including the landing of "secret agents" in the south was reported by Domei.

A British carrier task force carried out an attack against Sabang, off the northern tip of Sumatra, at 10:30 a. m. yesterday, Domei said. The Jap agency said that an "infiltration" of Tanahmassa Island, off the southern coast, had been carried out early last month.

His bed is a good one and comfy, the mattress and springs are both deep designed for a fellow to rest of a night and permit him enjoyment of sleep. But boys dislike beds in the summer and here's a queer thing I have found when the weather is warm and the outdoors are cool, he'd much sooner sleep on the ground. A tent is his room for the evening, with the breeze whisking in all about, as for comfort he says it is dandy, for boys always like to sleep out. But when I don my pajamas and prepare for a snooze in the hay, I still like the bed with the deep yielding springs, it's a pretty four, sunny, today.

Warn Public On Use Of Streets To Be Resurfaced

Pedestrians And Motorists Must Stay Off Streets While Work Is Being Done

James Gibson, director of improvements, today issued a warning to pedestrians and motorists to not use North Jefferson street between the Public Square and Grant street after one o'clock Sunday, because their shoes, clothing and rugs at home may be damaged and wrecks occur. He said the Kelly & Meyers, contractors, in charge of improving that stretch, commencing at one p. m. Sunday will spray the curbs with a liquid which will be a binder or "tack" for resurfacing.

"I cannot warn people too strongly not to walk on the liquid," said Gibson. "Should an auto attempt to operate on the street when it is liquid-coated the driver will not be able to stop the car and a wreck can be expected."

Same Liquid For Highland
He said also that people should keep off the far, or north end of Highland avenue, Monday, a section farther south on Highland avenue, Tuesday, and down to North Mill street, Wednesday.

After the foregoing streets have been given a coat of liquid the contractor will move to either Croton avenue or East Washington street and the warning also holds good for both these streets, he declared.

This will be the first time street work has been done here on Sunday, but because of the importance of getting the street program finished the work will proceed, with the warning.

"Do not walk or ride on North Jefferson street north to Grant street, Sunday afternoon, only at the risk of damaged clothing or a wreck!"

consume not more than three days of senate time. Connally, however, predicted it would take "at least a week"—delaying to that extent the charter time-table.

A parade of opposition witnesses on the charter yesterday charged that the 50-nation agreement was being "railroaded" through the senate by Connally's committee. A delay giving way to the Bretton Woods problem, some members hinted, might serve to answer that complaint.

Protest Coddling Of Jap Diplomats

MCCONNELLSBURG, Pa., July 12.—(INS)—A special meeting of the American Legion post here today resulted in a vigorous protest against housing Japanese diplomats and their families at the historic Bedford Springs hotel.

James L. Gattis, post commander, declared the treatment accorded the Japs is just the reverse of that given American and British war prisoners by the Japanese.

Gattis maintained that Jap diplomats should be given the same treatment instead of being handled with "kid gloves" and fed to the queen's taste.

The Japs were taken into custody by American forces during the last phases of the battle of Germany. The U. S. government has leased the hotel at Bedford as an internment camp until the Japs can be exchanged for Americans now held by the Nipponese.

School Teacher Substitutes To Get Pay Increase

Action Taken At Meeting Of New Castle School Board On Wednesday Night

Substitute school teachers, whether "day by day" or "full time substitutes" received an increase in their compensation Wednesday night when the New Castle School Board held its monthly business meeting.

The action brought the local school system under the provisions of an act of the General Assembly passed in the 1945 session.

Under the new provisions, elementary substitutes will be paid $6 per day (an increase of $2) and secondary substitutes will be $9 per day, an increase of $3.

Also following the provisions of the act of Assembly full time elementary substitutes will be paid $1400 per year for their first year and $1500 the second and ensuing years. Secondary full substitutes will be paid $1600 for the first year and $1700 for the second and ensuing years. In order to avoid any inequalities to teachers upon sabbatical leaves, such teachers salaries will be considered to be the one they would have received had they not taken the leave. A teacher on sabbatical leave gets the difference between her salary and that paid the substitute.

A change in the pay for teachers on leave of absence for personal reasons was made also. In the future, a teacher who takes a day off for personal reasons (five such days are permitted in a year) will lose $5 of her per diem compensation if she is an elementary teacher and $6 in the secondary bracket.

The following new teachers were elected: Temporary contract, Gail Cooper of R. D. 1 Slippery Rock Elementary schools, Jean Barnes McCreary, Pauline Lynch Elliott, secondary contract, Ruth Eleanor Cowan, Junior high school.

carriers which formed the nucleus of the force which Vice Adm. John S. McCain guided to within approximately 100 miles of Japan in the pre-dawn darkness of Tuesday. The fighters, dive-bombers and torpedo planes rained the skies over the enemy homeland for some 12 hours from dawn to dusk, the Japs said.

Official American reports, however, covered only the first few hours of the raid and told of the destruction of 74 Jap planes and the damaging of 80 others. Of these, but two were airborne, indicating that the enemy was either caught completely by surprise or was hurrying its planes to intercept the invasion which Tokyo nervously predicted.

Followed By Invasion
One Japanese radio commentator pointed out that the February carrier plane assaults against Tokyo were followed by the United States invasion of Iwo Jima, 750 miles to the southeast. He implied that a new landing was fully expected by the Japanese high command, perhaps on the shores of Japan itself.

The weak enemy air opposition to Tuesday's air assault was equaled by the Japanese resistance to new strikes against Jap shipping and shore installations on or near the homeland by Nimitz' air forces.

Three small cargo craft were set ablaze by fleet airwing one search privates in a sweep along the China coast Tuesday. The next day "strong forces" of Corsair fighters and Avenger torpedo bombers struck installations on southern Kyushu and in the northern Ryukyus.

ture series of loan drives of the War. It is the first time that the overall quota of any local campaign has been doubled, and Lawrence County was one of four in Western Pennsylvania to make the "E" quota.

Lawrence County is also one of the few counties in the district to have a record of exceeding the goal in every campaign. Leaders and workers in the loan drive certainly have every occasion to feel proud of their success, and display of patriotism in accomplishing the home front tasks assigned them.

Gasoline designation stickers are disappearing from the windows of many autos, it is observed.

Work is under way on placing the new web flooring in the West Washington street bridge over the Shenango river, Pa. News notes.

Protesting the remarks which Pa. News made recently about city corn not being knee-high on the Fourth or even now, Lucille Dudek of Ne-shannock avenue extension writes:

"When you said, last June, that you doubted that corn would be knee-high by the Fourth, ours was already knee-high. By July 4 it was chest-high and had tassels. Now we have noticed that the ears are beginning to form. Bring on the kettie an' let's have a corn roast!"

Traffic tangles which have existed downtown for the past couple of weeks, because of resurfacing have been eliminated for the present. Resurfacing of Washington street has been completed.

Temporary bus routes necessitated Wednesday by the resurfacing of Washington street caused considerable confusion among east and west route passengers as to where to get their bus. They were seen standing on various corners asking each other "Is this where I get a bus?"

Mile-high Mount Katahdin in the central Maine forests is believed to be the first spot in the United States on which the rising sun shines.

THESE are days when girls wear the service insignia of their loved ones—and so many proudly wear a Genuine Orange Blossom diamond ring—the symbol of betrothal and a design for waiting. She who waits also serves, and her love makes more endurable the sacrifice he is making to create for the world a destiny of lasting freedom. The heart that loves carries with it happiness everywhere. It plants its Eden in the foxholes of New Guinea and sows with flowers the cold desolate campsite of an Arctic battle station.

Price Of Invasion

All things considered, there is little reason to dispute the cocky assertion of Lieut. Gen. Roy S. Geiger that American forces can invade Japan "any time we want to." The Japanese navy has been all but chased off the seas. The Japanese air force, with the exception of the suicide dive bombers, has been knocked into virtual impotence. American Superfortresses have been enormously successful in obliterating enemy industrial centers on the Japanese home islands. Tokyo is in ruins.

In view of the present state of Japan's defenses, therefore, there is little doubt that American troops can be landed whenever it is desired to do so. But it is unlikely that the weakness of the enemy's sea and air defenses will lead anyone, at this late date, into the error of underestimating the probable cost.

The campaign on Okinawa made it plain that, even when outnumbered and outpowered, the Japanese can put up a terribly effective defense. Overwhelming American superiority in the air did not prevent heavy losses in Navy ships and personnel to those suicide pilots who managed to slip through the screen of fighter planes and anti-aircraft fire.

American superiority in firepower on land, supplemented by the big guns of the fleet, did not prevent the Okinawa campaign from being a long-drawn-out affair and one extremely costly in casualties.

To counter the invasion of Japan, the enemy is reported to have available approximately 4,000,000 trained troops compared to the 115,000 on Okinawa. Unless their morale and will to fight falters, it will involve a long and bloody struggle to subdue them.

Horseless Farms

War has added to the importance of the internal combustion engine as a source of adaptable power. On land and sea and in the air, implements of war became so universally motorized that gasoline became as important as shells and bombs. Even the foot soldier rides in armored warfare.

With the coming of peace American manufacturers, taking advantage of the learned in war, will produce lines of tractors so comprehensive as to be available for all size farms, from great ranches to the smallest garden plot. With a market for the larger sizes well established, manufacturers are going after the smaller farmer, who still uses horses as a matter of course.

"Eventually it will be necessary to go to the zoo to see a horse," a manufacturer is quoted as saying. The time may never come when the horseless farm is general. But there are thousands now that are without a horse and many thousands more with but a single team. Already recognized as a dependable hand, the gasoline motor will play a bigger part in agriculture with the coming of peace.

In Right Direction

Even if nothing substantial comes of the President's latest order to department heads, it is heartening to have the White House take positive action to prevent misuse of the government's funds. With billions of dollars being tossed about there are so many invitations to carelessness and so many opportunities to extravagance that an "exacting review" of expenditures is indeed in the national interest.

In emphasizing the need of economy, Mr. Truman is on familiar ground. As a former chairman of the Senate committee which bore his name, he labored long and conscientiously to make certain that the government received some value for each dollar spent on war materials. He knows of his own experience how easy it is to fall into shipshape ways of doing business and how costly inefficiency can be to the country.

So he now directs that there be a prompt investigation and, where appropriate, vigorous disciplinary action in any instance where there is the slightest ground to suspect waste or carelessness of federal money. It is too much to hope that the heads of all departments, agencies and commissions will take the President's words at their full face value, but some of them will doubtless have uneasy moments with their consciences.

Extra Gas, Extra Care!

With an increase in gas allotments to American motorists during summer months, a comparable increase in the traffic accidents is likely unless drivers also increase their precautions on the road, the National Safety Council warned today.

The traffic accident rate has climbed upward month by month in 1945, though the year started well with January showing a 14 per cent decrease over January of 1944. The stage is set for a continuance of this accident rate climb, the council said, with rusty drivers being given more gas to drive old cars over highways that have not been adequately maintained during the war.

The council offered these suggestions to American motorists for safer summer driving:

1. Hold your speed down.
2. Have your tires checked at least once a week.
3. Keep brakes in good condition by frequent checks.
4. Have headlights adjusted.
5. Remember there will be many more drivers on the highway.

Show consideration for them.

Export Dreams

Some fantastic figures were hurled about following the recent Congressional approval of reciprocal trade treaties and lower tariffs. Some of the radio boys spoke of American exports in a volume of $12,000,000,000 to $15,000,000,000 annually.

American exports before the war had settled down to an average of approximately $3,000,000,000 annually. During the boom times from 1924 to 1929 the nation's average annual exports were $4,500,000,000. Now foreign trade enthusiasts expect to increase the nation's best efforts in past years by 300 per cent.

There is little except inflation to substantiate any such hope. It will be recalled that in the twenties many American exports were paid for by American loans to foreign countries. The nation was attempting to lift itself by its bootstraps.

It must not be forgotten that Britain, having lost the investments abroad which formerly brought that nation a large income, admits the vital necessity of increasing its exports 50 per cent. The British already have suggested that the United States, France and China exercise "moral restraint" and refrain from invading former British markets so that Britain can recapture them.

To increase American exports by 300 per cent is an utter impossibility, unless there is world-wide inflation and depreciation of money floating the seas.

We're glad to see the setting of the rising sun has had no effect on the new value of an eclipse.

WASHINGTON CALLING
by MARQUIS CHILDS

Vital Decisions For Nation Being Forced

WASHINGTON, July 12—The story Congresswoman Clare Luce tells about the farmer and his new hired man pretty well sums up the dilemma of congress today and the dilemma of a lot of other people, too.

It seems that the farmer finally got a hired man and he was a bear for work. The first day he cut the hay in the "south forty" and the second day he did more fending than any hired man before him had ever done. The third day the farmer put him to sorting seed potatoes in the basement.

In the late afternoon his employer found the model hired man with hardly half a bushel of potatoes sorted. He looked up ruefully and said: "Yeah I know. But it's these decisions that fill you."

We're at the end of one era and at the beginning of another. This means decisions on air transportation, on communications, on military service and at least a dozen other vital issues. In the faithful phrase that Sumner Welles used as the title of his brilliant book, it is, in more ways than one, a "time for decision."

Take the business of world communications—the network of electrical impulses that ties the globe into a small knot with no community more than a few seconds away from any other community. Will there be competition between American companies? Or is that kind of competition outmoded? Must we have one consolidated company? That will, theoretically, at least—compete with the monopoly companies of other nations?

Questions like these cast a long shadow into the future. They may mean more than the words of the charter the senate is about to debate. So much can turn on the answers—far more than the mere matter of profits for one group or another.

On the path this country should follow in international communications, there is far less agreement within the government than there is on the position we should take in post-war aviation. Maybe it's because the communications picture is more complicated.

Recently a senate sub-committee headed by Senator Burton Wheeler of Montana made a tour of Europe and the Middle East. They were under the chaperonage of Admiral Joseph R. Redman, director of communications for the navy and one of the chief advocates of a merger that would unite all companies in the international communications field in one. That single U. S. company would have the blessing of the government. One of the navy's chief arguments is that this is necessary for national security.

According to reports, the senate committee came back pretty well convinced some such merger was necessary. One argument Admiral Redman used is that the present U. S. military communications section could not be retained for peacetime use if there were several companies fighting over it. But since much of this military equipment is being operated in foreign countries that would never permit a similar use in peacetime, such an argument would seem to have little weight.

Accompanying the senators, too, was Chairman Paul Porter of the Federal Communications Commission, the young post-war dealer who was publicly director for the Democratic national committee in the last campaign. Porter has come out publicly for a merger. But, as he explains it, it would be quite a different tiger than the companies would write if they could have their own way. To begin with, Porter would force a separation of functions in company in the domestic communications field could also be in the international field.

In other words, you would have a very closely regulated monopoly. Some senators, Wheeler among them, argue that if you can go that far, why not go the whole way and have government ownership.

The best statement for competition has been made by Assistant Secretary of State William L. Clayton. He made a powerful case for the advantages of competitive rates for competition in service, in skill, in inventiveness. This is the view too, of the department of justice.

It seems to me it is hard to answer those arguments. Admittedly the problem is fearfully complicated. Unless you are a specialist, you can hardly understand it.

The step toward a monopoly is a long one. It will be a precedent. Even if we forcing these decisions, and they are too easy.

The World and the Mud Puddles

A QUEER "PEACE"

The absence of any recognized government in Germany helps to produce a curious situation. Other wars have been concluded with peace negotiations between the winners and the losers. With unconditional surrender there was nothing of a military nature to negotiate. Part of the German army surrendered to the British and United States armies and part to the Soviet armies. It is not officially disclosed how many war prisoners finally were taken by the respective armies. It is said that there are about forty million German civilians in the United States—British areas of occupation and thirty million in the Russian area. What disposition is being made of these civilians by Russia is not disclosed. In the United States—British areas it is reported that seed grain and tons of seed potatoes are being distributed and agricultural workers being returned to food production—contributions almost entirely by Uncle Sam.

It is customary, following victory, for the victors to get together and determine many important matters. There would be, ordinarily, some agreement on the amount of damage inflicted by the losers on the winners of some arrangement about reparations. There would be an inquiry into the assets of the losers held in the nations of the winners and some arrangement for their disposal. There would be needs for the exchange of war prisoners. There would be general agreement on the imposition of penalties on war criminals and some determination on the status and privileges of the civilian population of the losers. There would be some program of general reconstruction for the defeated nation and an endeavor to set up uniform local governments to carry on the essential public services and administer some type of civil justice.

None of these things have yet appeared as a sequel to Germany's defeat. Under military censorship only a limited amount of information comes out of the areas occupied by the United States and Great Britain. No news whatever comes out of Berlin and neither soldiers nor newsmen of the Allied nations are permitted to enter the Russian-occupied areas. Each of the victor nations proceeds on its own. There is no co-ordination among them.

There appears to be no program for mutual action. France, directly interested for her own security against a German revival and one of the worst sufferers from the war does not yet know her status in the picture.

Will there be peace conference of the Allied Powers? Why do the winning nations continue to work in the dark? What is there to hide that the news blackout continues over Germany? These are questions the people of the victor nations have a right to ask. It is time the questions were answered.

Ickes Likely To Remain As Interior Secretary
Truman Gives Secret Service Squad Much Work
Congressional Revolt Against OPA Brings Woe

By HELEN ESSARY
(Central Press Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 12—Look for "Honorable Harold" Ickes to stay in the Truman cabinet as secretary of the interior—or at least to be the last to have his resignation accepted with regret.

Former Senate pals of President Truman—who disclaim any inside information—forecast that Ickes and Secretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal are the best bets to come through the current cabinet shake-up.

They point out that Ickes' reputation as a self-styled "curmudgeon" comes largely from his liking "free-for-all" battling with bombastic invective, of which he is a master. He is a useful political tool, who does an efficient administrative job as well as a political ally not worth while converting into an enemy.

Truman Dines Out

President Truman's carefree way of mingling with the people and dining out is saving secret service operatives much sleep. In odder times, the president dined away from the White House. It was his habit. Post-presidential seclusion left the executive mansion for brief respites among intimates, except, of course, when they made set tours of the city.

Not so with Harry Truman. He was out of the White House frequently on unannounced dinner engagements with a group of cronies, usually former colleagues in the Senate. He dashes about Washington as though he were still vicar Harry Truman, haberdasher from Missouri.

His intimates call him "Truman the Human." At a recent dinner away from the White House attended by the president, the group turned to singing songs and Harry Truman joined with gusto. One of the group was heard to say: "You may be president of the United States, but you are still Harry to us."

As vice president Mr. Truman's nearest rival in recent history as a party-goer was the late Vice President Charles Curtis of Kansas. It will be noted is next to Missouri on the map.

Post-War Inflation Seen

The revolt in congress against the Office of Price Administration is causing many members to predict that the country will experience a post-war inflation of considerable proportions.

They recall that the inflation of World War I, which found many prices much higher than they are today, occurred for the most part after the 1918 armistice. They

O.P.A. Brings Suit Against Big Stores In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, July 12.—(INS)—The O.P.A. has brought suit in federal court against five large Philadelphia department stores and women's apparel shops on charges of violating price regulations.

Named in the suit were Gimbel Brothers, Wanamakers, Blumers, Stern & Co. and the Blum store.

O.P.A. charged the Gimbel store with 3,073 overpricing sales of dresses, blouses and other garments during the 11-month period starting from July, 1944 and Blumers with 6,137 price violations during the same period on various types of women's children's and babies' commodities including diapers and snow suits.

It entered suits against Gimbel for $253,650 damages and against Blumers for $457,100, asking a "penalty" against each store of $50 for each overpricing sale.

The charges against Wanamakers, the Blum store and Stern company are that they used improper pricing methods and failed to keep the price records prescribed by O.P.A. regulations.

O.P.A. did not make any immediate claims for damages against these three stores because investigators have not been able to ascertain any overpricing sales by these concerns, it was stated.

Would Curtail Use Of Grain For Making Alcohol

WASHINGTON, July 12.—(INS)—Secretary of Agriculture, Clinton Anderson has recommended to the W.P.B. that in view of the livestock feed grain shortage no grain should be used for the manufacture of beverage alcohol after July.

In a letter to Julius A. Krug, W.P.B. chairman, it was disclosed today Anderson also expressed the view that only a minimum quantity of grain should be used for industrial alcohol after his month.

Girls Who Married Italian War Prisoners Protest Separation

War Department Pays No Heed To Protests Of San Francisco
Brides

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—(INS)—Three San Francisco Bay region girls who married Italian war prisoners in violation of war department regulations protested their separation from their husbands today.

Army authorities revealed that the marriages took place while the three Italian POWs were stationed at Camp Knight, near Oakland, Cal., with a service unit. The men have been sent to a prisoner of war camp in Arizona.

The protesting brides are Mrs. Norma Romeo Scorza, 23, Mrs. Virginia Paulini Mazzonchi, 21, both of San Francisco, and Mrs. Mildred Circo Bertolotti, 26, of Antioch, Cal.

The trio admitted they attempted to keep their marriages secret but said the separations were unjust, claiming they "weren't the only ones who were secretly married" to Italian war prisoners.

Army authorities, however, evidenced no further interest in the case.

As far as we are concerned," an army spokesman said, "these were the only marriages that have taken place."

"If they don't want the boys to get married," Mrs. Scorza complained, "they shouldn't let them go out to parties and dances. They're young and good-looking and of course they fall in love. What did the army expect?"

The army said that the three prisoner husbands will "probably be deported" in due time but pointed out that they may return to the United States under immigration quotas after the war.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

know we are their friends. They act as if they are our neighbors then.

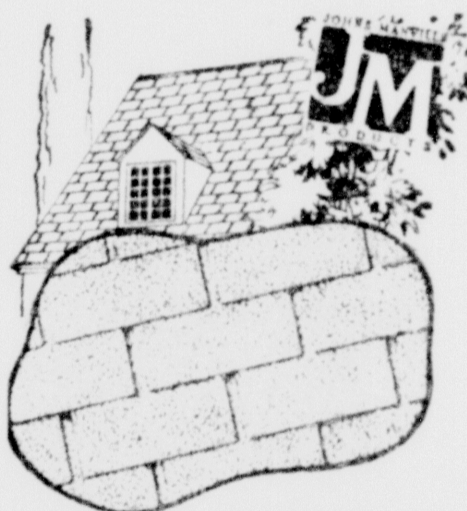

It is fun to watch these animals and understand many of their ways. What fun it is to watch a road eating his evening meal; a bird bathing in water or dust; building a nest; feeding the baby bird or teaching it to fly. How wonderful to hear the birds sing as you awaken on a summer morning.

When you go to visit on a farm, you can watch the cows eating grass in the meadow or drinking water from the brook. You can see the cow chewing her cud peacefully as she stands or lies down, lazily in the evening. You can see the lambs play in the pasture. Perhaps a lamb or calf or calf will come to eat from your hand if you are very kind to it. If you are kind to all these animals which can't talk, they will understand that you are their friends.

We can talk to animals and they can understand many things we say to them. They know when we talk gently or softly to them. Although they cannot answer us in our language, they can make signs and sounds that we, in our turn, can understand very well indeed. When we treat animals right, they enjoy us, and we enjoy them.

"MAN'S BEST FRIEND"

The Editor,
New Castle News,
Dear Mr. Editor:

Man's Best Friend seems to be having a hard time of it in these days of regimentation of both man and beast, in spite of the wonderful service that dogs are giving our country in the war. For now, in addition to the "rabies" quarantine, he is forbidden to bark.

No dog will "bark continuously" if he is properly cared for. If he does, he is probably trying to attract the attention of his owner to the fact that he wants something, probably a drink of water.

It is lamentably true that a great many dog owners, through carelessness or indifference, do not keep fresh water where their dog has access to it at all times. A great deal of the so-called "rabies" is no doubt due to thirst.

Many dogs are kept tied in back yards all of the time, often with no escape from the hot sun, and if water is provided at all, it is often placed so that the poor mutt knocks over the first time he tries to pass it.

Also these same careless owners never think a dog needs exercise or realize how much they love companionship. A dog should be allowed a chance to have a run every day, even though it is necessary to keep him on a leash. He will love and appreciate his owner all the more for that bit of consideration that has been given him.

Then there are the people who go away for a couple of days or more, leaving the dog shut in the house without food or water, while they are away "enjoying themselves." How they can enjoy themselves while a pet is suffering from loneliness and thirst is beyond me! But, since it "takes all kinds of people to make a world," I probably do not disturb them in the slightest!

One of these days, perhaps in the millennium we are told is near, people will have to qualify before being permitted to own an animal, just as they must now before being allowed to adopt a baby. Meanwhile why wouldn't it be a good idea to deliver a lecture on the proper care of dogs to those owners whose pets have made nuisances of themselves by "continuous barking"?

Sincerely yours,
LAURA TUCKER McALLISTER

Prison Sentence For Accepting Money Illegally

SCRANTON, Pa., July 12.—(INS)—Thomas Barrett, of Willow Grove, was sentenced in federal court at Scranton to three months in the Dauphin county prison for accepting money illegally from two employers at the $40,000,000 naval depot at Mechanicsburg near Harrisburg.

Barrett was convicted last month at Williamsport on charges of accepting $120 from workers for better jobs under him as a foreman.

Fellow workers made a plea for mercy for Barrett in federal court today before Judge Albert L. Watson and the jurist said he was taking this and the foreman's previous good reputation into consideration in imposing sentence.

"I can't let you off with a reprimand in a case of this sort and I'll send you to jail for three months," Watson told Barrett.

Meanwhile the O.P.A., saddled with too many unpopular jobs, is the butt of public resentment against government control of the nation's business life.

Burly spokesmen for the glass workers union adopted a belligerent attitude about the strike of 18,000 of their workers employed by the Pittsburgh Plate Glass and Libbey-Owens-Ford companies.

The strike, which began June 21, had tied up production of glass containers for United States warplanes.

At a War Labor Board hearing, union officials resented a snave dressing-down from War Labor Board Vice Chairman Lloyd Garrison. Garrison has promised that matters at issue would be thrashed out at another hearing, July 10.

SUN BURNS

Sun-burn seems so harmless that it is hard to realize what it can do to the skin.

The warm sun feels so good that a person does not fear any danger. The best way is to take sunbathing in small doses. Sun burn is painful and injurious.

Fifteen minutes is enough for the first day. A little longer time each day will get the skin in condition so that it will not get burned.

Many people lie in the sun in a bathing suit on the fourth of July and are miserable for a week afterward.

Better protect the skin and avoid the misery.

Manila De-Lousing Continues From Air

MANILA, July 12 — (INS) — A sharp decrease in the incidence of malaria in Manila was reported today as a result of the daily "de-lousing" of the city by low-flying aircraft.

For the last three months Manila has been sprayed regularly with "DDT"—a powerful new insecticide—by transport planes flying at rooftop level.

Col. J. M. Andrews, chief malarialist, announced that currently the incidence rate is 59 cases per thousand per year, whereas early in 1943, after the Bama campaign, the rate was 960 per thousand.

Stanley Granger, collector of internal revenue, warned that violators could be fined $25.

The fines, which are payable to the treasury of the United States, ranged from $25 to $500 per person. LINCOLN AVENUE RESIDENTS ASK FOR RESURFACING

Council met this morning to city and referred to committee a request by D. S. Pyle, four Davis, J. K. Love and other Lincoln avenue property-owners that Lincoln avenue be resurfaced this summer.

The spokesman realized that asphalt block was laid there 48 years ago, that Lincoln avenue is an important thoroughfare, is in bad condition yet residential property there is valued as high as one higher than elsewhere.

I believe all members of council understand the situation there, Mayor John F. Hosen stated.

For your information I might say that the city engineer already has made an estimate of cost of resurfacing there. Streets Director James Gibson informed the delegation.

Upon motion of Finance Director Albert Haysland the request was referred to committee. Mayor Haysland added after the vote, "Council will see this their attention."

The delegating asked that the work be performed while a contractor had his equipment here and it was possible to procure an asphalt material in this city.

The Cathedral and High School are located on Lincoln avenue.

Athletic Council Dissolution Is Again Discussed

Preston Seeks Hearing For Former Members Of Council At School
Board Session

School Director Robert L. Preston brought up the matter of the dissolution of the Athletic Council before the board on Wednesday night, July 11, when the board met for its usual monthly session at the East street building. The council was dissolved at a special meeting held a week ago by an unanimous vote of the seven members present. The reason given at that time was that the action followed the recommendations of Dr. John Guy Fowlkes of the University of Wisconsin, who surveyed the school system late in 1944.

Mr. Preston had not voted upon the dissolution resolution as he had been unable to be present at the special meeting. At the Wednesday night meeting he said in part "this action was a shock to me. The athletic council was dissolved without a hearing being given to the members of the council, who have labored long in behalf of school athletics. The employees of the council have been discharged without a hearing and they are presently out of jobs. I believe a hearing should be held at which the former members of the athletic council would be called in to discuss this matter."

Members of the board pointed out to Mr. Preston that the action did not dismiss the paid employees of the council, but merely dissolved the council as an agent of the school board in handling athletics, that the board expected to handle athletics as a school activity in the future and that there was no change in the status of the paid employees.

At the conclusion of the discussion Mr. Preston moved to invite the former athletic council members to the next meeting of the board. The motion was not seconded and the motion fell. The board then adjourned.

Workers To Return To Less Essential Industries Soon

ALLENTOWN, Pa., July 12.—(INS)—The transfer of workers from war-vital plants to less essential industries will begin in Allentown next Monday, thus reversing the War Manpower Commission's "Allentown plan".

The original plan was instituted last January 24, when the area was gripped by a severe labor shortage. The United States Employment Service "lifted" employees from about 30 less-essential industries, including breweries, soft drink plants and cement plants, and transplanted them to factories turning out more crucial products.

Area WMC Director Dr. Frank P. Maguire announced that since the emergency has been overcome "in the majority of instances" the men will be permitted to return to their former jobs. More than 900 workers were transplanted under the system.

Maguire pointed out that the workers must request a re-transfer, but emphasized that the employee is not obligated to go back to his former employer, nor is the latter required to re-hire ex-employees except where a collective bargaining arrangement ordering re-employment had been set up.

The WMC director cited contract terminations, cancellations and cut-backs as evidence of the end of the emergency. Approximately 1,325 men are slated to be released by two plants alone—the Mack truck plant and the Consolidated-Vultee aircraft plant.

Schools Must Comply With New State Law

HARRISBURG, July 12.—(INS)

—The state health department notified Pennsylvania school officials they must report compliance by September 1 with the new law governing medical examinations of pupils.

But deputy secretary J. Moore Campbell predicted that "many schools would not be able to undertake the program this year due to the shortage of physicians and nurses." Medical and dental examiners have not been appointed as yet by health secretary A. H. Stewart, he added.

Campbell said regulations, drafted by the department for conducting examinations and instructions on conforming with the health measure, were sent to the state's 252 county and district school superintendents.

Coal Contract Let For Schools

Many Other Routine Business Matters Come Before Session Last Night

TAX ASSESSMENT SITUATION CLEARED

Coal for the coming school year was ordered by the New Castle School Board Wednesday night, when a contract was awarded Maxwell and Gibson at the monthly meeting of the board in the administration building in East street. The Maxwell and Gibson bid was the only bid received and the prices quoted were $6.66 per ton for 2 inch, $6.66 for nut and $6.48 for nut slack.

J. L. Maxwell was present when his bid was opened and explained to the board that he could furnish only 80 per cent of the coal asked for, due to war time regulations, that the price would raise or decrease according to any rule of the government, raise or decrease in labor rates, or by any state or Federal tax which increase the wholesale price of coal. The bid was accepted.

Mistake In Interpretation

In a letter to the board, the Solicitor, Attorney Robert L. Wallace, cleared up a misunderstanding which has existed for about sixty days in the city and county over the manner in which school taxes would be assessed.

Since the close of the General Assembly session of 1945, it had been assumed that the school taxes would be levied under the assessments of the county assessors instead of the city assessors as has been the custom. This Mr. Wallace told the board had been a mistake in interpretation by other taxing bodies other than the school board and that the assessment would remain on the city figures.

He did point out that the school subsidies which will be paid by the state will be based upon the county assessments, but that the county assessments can be raised if in the judgment of the State Council of Education they are too low in any district.

None This Year

John B. Bechtol, secretary and business manager of the board was asked when the new subsidies would be paid. He replied that for the school year of 1945-46 the subsidy would be about the same as it has, in the neighborhood of $180,000. The increased expenditures due to increase of base salary rates, by legislative action, will be met by the 1945-46 budget, and these increases had been anticipated when the budget was being made. The increased subsidy (estimated at nearly double) will be effective for the school year of 1946-47. In other words, Mr. Bechtol explained, school districts get the increased subsidies after they have made the increased expenditures.

Consider Work

Andrew Pfahles, a local contractor was before the board in the matter of some concrete work which had been done last summer and which suffered considerably after the rigors of the past winter.

Mr. Pfahles agreed with the board that the work in some spots had broken down but said "the deterioration was caused by the use of salt in the snow and ice." Asked whether he would advise against the use of salt on icy or snow sidewalks he said, "I certainly would." Use sand and you get a safe footing. Use salt and your concrete will break down especially where no fine top coat has been put on the concrete." Mr. Pfahles was fair in his treatment of the situation and said he would reface the concrete affected, without cost to the school board.

Other Action

Mrs. Rachel Pollock Taylor was re-elected as cafeteria manager for the coming year at a salary of $2,200 with a car allowance of $20 per month for the nine months of the school term.

A contract for $292.92 worth of electrical supplies for the vocational school was awarded to the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company at its low bid.

A contract for the rebinding of school books for four schools was awarded to the Mutual Library Bindery of Syracuse, N. Y., at its price of $506.32.

John B. Bechtol, secretary and business manager was authorized to dispose of two portable buildings on the Lincoln-Garfield school property to the highest bidders. A bid for each of two of the buildings has been received, one of $200 from Paul Pattison for a portable, in fair shape and one $35 from W. B. Kinney for one, in poor shape. One other bidder is expected to enter a bid but the buildings will be sold by Saturday on bids received.

RUMORED JAP RIOTS

The reaction of at least part of the Japanese homefront to the blistering American air assaults on the Nipponese homeland appeared to be indicated today by Stockholm reports of serious rioting in Tokyo, with hundreds killed.

There is absolutely no confirmation of the Stockholm reports, however, and pending such confirmation it should be taken with a grain of salt. It should be recalled that during the war in Europe enemy propaganda stories were "planted" in neutral capitals for reasons which were not immediately apparent but subsequently became obvious.

Popular Resentment

The occidental conception of the Japanese character would seem to preclude the idea of the Nipponese revolting against their government so long as the emperor remained at the helm. Yet Tokyo riots could be a manifestation of popular resentment against the war lords who long have held the emperor under their sway.

Such riots also could be a manifestation of the Japs tendency to commit suicide when confronted with an impossible situation. Japan always has had the highest suicide rate in the world. In fact in Japan suicide is not regarded as a crime, as in other countries, but even highly honorable.

Recent Japanese defeats in the field of battle, in which Nip troops committed hara kiri wholesale, emphasizes the grip the ancient Samurai code has on the army. But even in peacetime among civilians, jishitsu, or "self-killing," was not uncommon.

Were the Tokyo riots revolt or mass jishitsu? Only time will tell.

McKEESPORT, Pa., July 12.—(INS)—Injuries sustained when a load of grain fell on him Tuesday, proved fatal today to Thomas Jones, 55, of West Newton. Hospital attaches said he suffered a crushed chest and abdominal injury.

Aerial Blasting Of Japan Will Be Much Increased

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Acting Secretary of War Robert Patterson declared today that aerial blasting of Japan will be "intensified" with the two-fold objective of destroying the enemy's air force and reducing her capacity to make war.

"I will not draw any particular inferences from the present excellent results obtained by our bombing, except to say that these results will be continued and intensified with the purpose of destroying the enemy's air force, softening up Japan, and reducing to a minimum her capacity to make modern war," Patterson told a news conference.

Most Severe Attack

The secret said that Japan has been subjected this week to the most severe punishment of the Pacific war and that army air forces and carrier planes "have blasted the Japanese home islands in a mounting bombing crescendo."

Patterson disclosed that reconnaissance missions have shown that the July 7 raid by B-29's on Kofu burned out 64 percent of that city, and in addition 50 percent of Shimizu and 43 percent of Chiba.

Patterson said the development of American bases in the Marianas, Iwo Jima and Okinawa have made the heavy strikes possible.

Will Be Increased
"They will be increased constantly, of course, as we construct more airfields and move more of our planes to directly connected with the urgency of our redeployment from Europe to the Pacific," he said.

The secretary said that the Japanese in China appeared to be moving northward in an orderly fashion and while the Chinese forces are in pursuit he warned that it should be assumed the Japanese are capable of launching counter-attacks.

"The victories already reported are heartening evidence of the confidence and effectiveness of the Chinese army," Patterson said. "It should be emphasized, however, that their successes so far are local in character. I stress the point because repeated news of local victories, however encouraging, may appear to assume the proportions of a full-scale offensive."

Belgians Leave To Meet Leopold

BRUSSELS, July 12.—(INS)—The regent of Belgium, Prince Charles, accompanied by the presidents of the senate and chamber of deputies, left Brussels by air today for Salzburg, Austria, to confer with King Leopold III.

The meeting of Prince Charles with his brother is expected to end the two-month political deadlock in Belgium during which demands have been made for the abdication of the king.

Butter Supplies Are Piling Up

PITTSBURGH, July 12.—(INS)—A consumer shortage of red points has caused hundreds of thousands of pounds of butter to pile up in Pittsburgh warehouses, it was reported today by an official of a large chain of retail stores.

The store official said that Oleo-margarine, on the other hand, was becoming scarce because of its lower point value.

RESURFACING ON MORAVIA STREET

Kelly & Meyers, contractors, today had moved from the central business section and were working on Moravia street, south of Long avenue, according to reports. All thoroughfares in the central business district were open to foot and vehicular traffic today. However, the West Washington street bridge was being repaired with a steel mesh bridge.

ASK MANTLE CLUB RECORDS

WILMINGTON, Del., July 12.—(INS)—Federal Judge Paul Leahy of Federal court at Wilmington, Del., today took under advisement the petition of Allegheny county (Pa.) authorities asking the court to produce records and evidence used in the Delaware court's prosecution of the Mantle club.

County Firemen Meet Wednesday

County Association Takes Action On Calls To Outside Territory At Meeting Last Night

At the monthly meeting of the Lawrence County Firemen's Association, held in the Fairview school on Highland avenue, with Neshannock township firemen as hosts, a resolution was adopted, whereby departments will discontinue service to districts outside their jurisdiction without receiving a call from a recognized fireman from the district asking assistance.

There are a number of districts in the county which do not support a fire department and when they have a fire, expect organizations from other communities to answer alarms at the risk of life and property. The action was taken because of this fact.

A membership committee was appointed as follows: C. B. Kingsford, Ellwood City, chairman; Frank H. Robinson, New Castle; W. Swanson, Bessemer; Lloyd A. Hammill, Wurtzburg; Merle Brooks, Neshannock township; Wilbur White, Shennango township; Glenn McConnell, New Wilmington; J. S. Sparr, West Pittsburg.

Following the business session, motion pictures taken in the Pacific war zone were shown by Ray Earl, and refreshments were served with the following committee from Neshannock Township firemen assisting: Ed Miller, Lev Godwin, Harry Gre, James Allen, and William Fox.

Relative to the barking dog ordinance, the mayor, as chairman of council which adopted the punitive measure, reported:

"It applies to dogs which bark continuously."

He said that police had warned a woman in another section that where the birds were killed by cats and she responded that she would not do anything to stop the dog's barking.

THERE-IS-NO-FOOD SHORTAGE

There is plenty of food, even if the variety is limited. Think of a horse, how hard he can work on oats, or how long a parrot can live on crackers, but it does give us something to complain about. Our foods are just the same as 50 years ago, only change now, we take vitamins out and then flake, cube, crush, toast or smash it out of shape. But it still is oats, wheat, corn.

So try oranges, Sunkist, full of juice and only 29c dozen, yes, plenty of produce, sound dry cooking yellow onions 2 lbs. 15c; California Lopes, Georgia Watermelons, priced low, good cutters, yes, people are becoming more quality conscious every day, that is why more and more customers come to C-n-Buy every day. They have found it's good business to buy at C-n-Buy.

Have a cocktail on that.—Vegemato 18 oz. tin, a liquid vegetable salad, 2 cans 25c. How about Polk's Grapefruit Juice No. 2 cans, 2 for 25c. Save your sugar buy canned applesauce, No. 2 can already made with sugar, 2 for 25c, 24 cans to case at $2.90. A jar peanut butter is an economical spread, full pound jar, Greenville brand at 20c, freshly made; tried Kraft Dinner lately, makes swell eating 2 pkgs. 19c. Limited supply Nestle's Instant Cocoa, half pound 19c. Guess cows don't understand rationing, seems to be more butter than red points, maybe should ration grass to the cows.

Peaches are coming in, very good now, and are much lower in price 3 lbs 29c.

If you have the points we have 3 lb. Crisco and Spry at 69c, still have plenty of sugar in 5, 10 and 25 pound size, bring your ration stamps.

Your food merchant has the food, but he really does not have bags to put it in, so try and think of your basket or bags when going shopping.

Let's remember the best fed army in the world which is Uncle Sam's, is not entirely free of food shortages, should they not come first.

A special price on canned milk, this is genuine cows milk homogenized and sterilized especially adapted for feeding infants and invalids, by adding one part water to one part of this milk, will produce milk which will not be below legal standard for whole milk, also accepted by American Medical Association, chill to 40 or below and will whip like fresh cream, full 14 1/2 oz. can, special introductory offer, once only, maybe twice, 6 cans 49c, name Beauty brand.

Have enlarged parking lot to take care of two more customers, one can park on outside, bring your own lunch if you want to stay all day and shop the town, might have a little Oleo, don't tell anyone. Here's a little special on Austin's A-1 bowl cleaner, keeps bowls in clean, white sanitary condition, insures good sanitation, costs only 15c large can, might have a little washing powder.

Post Office Here Is Big Business

Growth Of Various Types Of Mail Is Revealed By Postmaster Hanna To Kiwanians

PAYROLL IS NOW
$18,000 A MONTH

New Castle post office has become a real business institution in the past few years. Postmaster William B. Hanna revealed to members of the New Castle Kiwanis club at their noon luncheon meeting in the Castleton Wednesday, it employs 98 persons and has a payroll of $18,000 per month. Receipts from stamps and post cards, etc., amounted to $363,000 last year, but total receipts from the sale of War Bonds, War Stamps, etc., amounted to three and a half million dollars. In one day last winter during the Christmas rush, the local post office handled 6,758 parcels and 214,000 letters.

Uncle Sam employs many types of vehicles to get the mail to his patrons, from a snowmobile in the frozen north to boats in Louisiana, which penetrate the fastnesses of the southern bayous. A mail truck is being tested out, much like a railway mail car, where mail will be sorted en route between cities, and Postmaster Hanna even foresees the day when autogiros will land atop the post office and deliver and carry away mail, he told the Kiwanians.

Service Mail Heavy
In New York the Post Office Department maintains an establishment covering 14 acres to handle the mail to the men overseas. It has handled 941,000 regular letters, 1,784,000 air mail letters, and 341,000 V-mail letters a day, in addition to a million papers a week. During the Christmas rush last winter,

Camp Proving One Big Round
Of Pleasure For Campers

Despite the cool weather of the last few nights life at Camp Rentz is proving one big round of pleasure for the large group in camp, and they are passing the time in activities which strengthen mind and body.

Tuesday morning's program tailored for a chapel program, followed by games and swimming. Then came the lunch was a hungry group of boys cleaning house on the fine meal prepared by Mrs. Saul and Mrs. Brown. The afternoon found the boys enjoying a period of boating, making belts and other hand-craft articles, playing baseball and volleyball and swimming.

As darkness fell, the boys enjoyed a silent film entitled "Tarzan of the Apes," shown by Jack Boyles, and all too soon another enjoyable day ended.

Showdown Near On F.E.P.C. Dispute

WASHINGTON, July 12.—(INS)—The House faced a showdown today on the explosive FEPC dispute amid indications that the deadlock which has tied up funds for 19 war agencies will be broken.

A vote on new funds for the fair employment practices committee, established in 1940 by President Roosevelt to bar racial and religious discrimination in war jobs, was apparently assured.

The vote will provide the first test at this session of house sentiment on continuation of the FEPC which has been funded along with other war agencies, since July 1, the start of the new government fiscal year.

Both Equitable Gas and M. & M. factories, Litch & Reed company reported their southern gas corporations back in operation yesterday afternoon after the workers in southern West Virginia and eastern Kentucky returned to their jobs.

The CIO members talked out after a strike ballot in an argument over war demands and tight shut off. Labor leaders and the settlement was a temporary one pending War Labor Board action in the near future and on condition that the strikers would not be discriminated against because of their action.

Shop workers of the Pennsylvania railroad will choose between the Brotherhood of Shop Crafts, affiliated with the United Railroad Workers of America, CIO, in an election which will probably be held August 1, the National Mediation Board has announced.

The definite time and procedure for the election have not yet been revealed, according to Leroy Simpson, chief clerk of the E. & A. division. Fourteen states will be included in this election, the most extensive ever held on an American railroad.

Cpl. M. J. Dabrowski Awarded Bronze Star

Local Soldier With 26th Division.
Awarded Medal For Heroic
Exploit In Austria

Cpl. Maxwell J. Dabrowski, son of Anthony Dabrowski of 1711 Morris street, has been awarded the bronze star for heroic action in the vicinity of Hofkirchen, Austria, on May 1, 1945, according to word received by his sister, Miss Wanda Dabrowski, who received the medal and a copy of the citation which accompanied it, yesterday.

According to the citation, "while engaged in military operations near Hofkirchen, Cpl. Dabrowski, a transportation corporal serving with Co. M, 328th Infantry, voluntarily joined a small motorized reconnaissance patrol on the mission of screening the advance of the company. After traveling along a route which was subjected to the harassing fire of enemy snipers and hostile anti-aircraft weapons, he and his companions came upon 30 enemy troops engaged in building a road block and setting up defensive positions about the obstacle. Driving forward speedily, Cpl. Dabrowski and his companions completely surprised the hostile group, captured all of them, and then forced them to remove those parts of the road block already in place. His courage, strong initiative and loyal devotion to duty reflect the highest credit upon Cpl. Dabrowski and the armed forces of the United States."

that have made it possible for Pennsylvania's industries to produce materials for war and essential civilian needs," Governor Martin said.

"I am confident," the governor said, "that the people of Pennsylvania in the months to come, will as they have in the past, do even more than their full share on the home front as our state's fighting men have on the battlefield."

JAP WAR IS STILL BIG JOB FOR MEN OF ARMY ORDNANCE

PHILADELPHIA, July 12.—(INS)—The third service command disclosed that army ordnance is going to be busy for a long time to come preparing the knock-out punch for the Japs.

On the basis of the experience in Europe, this is what is to be the final phase of the war against Japan.

For each U. S. armored division sent into action against the Nips, army ordnance must supply 13,148 small arms weapons, 499 artillery pieces, 879 combat vehicles and 1755 other vehicles.

This equipment, the army said, for only one armored division, weighs 23,317 tons. Monthly replacements amount to 8000 different kinds of parts and assemblies, involving 1-500,000 individual pieces packed in 15,000 containers.

The following are the 15 largest cities in the world: London, New York, Tokyo, Berlin, Moscow, Shanghai, Chicago, Paris, Leningrad, Osaka, Buenos Aires, Philadelphia, Vienna, Detroit and Rio de Janeiro.

SALVAGE EFFORTS MUST BE GREATER

HARRISBURG, July 12.—(INS)—All civilian defense activities, "no longer deemed necessary," will be halted July 15, Gov. Edward Martin said today.

But Pennsylvania must intensify salvage collections, food preservation and conservation and auxiliary police activities "until the war is won," the governor said.

"For more than 41 months, without ceasing, more than half a million civilian defense volunteers in every county of this state have collected waste paper, tin cans, rags, iron and steel and scrap, and fats

Much Interest In Blooming Cactus

Arousing much interest among neighbors and friends who have seen it, is a beautiful white bloom emanating from a mound shaped cactus almost eight inches high and about four inches in diameter, belonging to Mrs. Charles Dillie of 409 Spruce street.

Approximately two inches from the top of the cactus body a stem has been growing outward and slightly upward for eight weeks reaching six inches. During Wednesday the growth of the stem took a spurt of two inches ending in a bud which commenced opening in the evening at 7:30 and being fully opened about 8:25.

The snowy white wax-like flower is four inches in diameter, with protruding stamens, and many fine petals within the flower cup. The cactus has a growth of twelve years, but this is the first time it has sent out a stem and flower.

Phils-Pirates Battle Tonight

Pirates Hope To Shake Jinx, Dodgers In Bad Fix With Pitcher Pfund Injured

NEW YORK, July 12.—(INS)—Inter-club warfare was to be resumed in the major leagues today with the Brooklyn Dodgers facing a particularly hard row to hoe in the National League.

Already in need of a fourth starting pitcher, the Dodgers were disappointed to report from the club medicals that Leroy Pfund, their hurler who was injured in an exhibition game at Washington Monday night, may be lost to the flock for the remainder of the year.

One game behind the league-leading Chicago Cubs, the Brooklyn double bill, this evening. And there is little solace for them in the recollection that on their first western tour they were knocked over by the Reds three games in succession.

Phils at Pittsburgh
In Chicago, the Cubs take on the Braves twice. The Giants will tackle the Cards in a night game, while the Pirates also will entertain the Phils under the arc lights.

The western club, in the American League swing east with Detroit invading Boston. The Yankees will take on Cleveland, the St. Louis Browns and the Athletics tangle in a doubleheader, and Washington entertains Chicago in a night game. No games were scheduled yesterday.

Baptists Lose To Good Farrell Team

American Legion Junior Team Fails To Overcome Early Lead Of Visitors Last Night

Second Baptists of the American Legion Junior League played a good Farrell team at Washington Field, Wednesday evening, and gave a good account of itself against an older and more experienced group, the Farrell aggregation having several returned soldiers in its lineup. The visitors won 11-8.

Robert Session had a perfect day at bat, with two triples, a double and single in four trips at the plate. Ira Brown, who was given a trial in right field, may break into the regular lineup in the second half of the league race. W. Walls, who went in as relief hurler in the third inning, held the visitors to five scattered hits and two runs, but the visitors had scored nine runs in the first two innings. Second Baptists will play Sons of Italy at Gaston Park, Friday evening.

Horse Racing Will Continue

Despite Transportation Edict Race Tracks Go Ahead With Scheduled Programs

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Staff Writer)
NEW YORK, July 12.—Horse racing was scheduled to go on as usual throughout the country today despite the new ODT-ICC ban on transporting thoroughbreds by common or contract carriers.

After the initial shock of the ruling went off, horsemen took stock of the situation and reached the conclusion that they will not be hit too hard for the new edict. In the main, it means that the sport of kings will assume a sectional rather than a national character.

No Shipping
The big stables will not be able to ship their stars to other tracks to compete for big stakes. This will be a break for handicappers, which happen to be already on the grounds at any particular track. However, the poor man will not be worried over. He can just keep his nags on that particular circuit. Short hops by private vans, such as between New York, Garden State and even Maryland, still will be feasible.

Next winter, the story will be different unless the Japs will have thrown in the towel by that time. Some horsemen believe there will be no racing in Florida or New Orleans. Conversely, this might mean a racing boom for California.

Fair Or Foul

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Staff Writer)

NEW YORK, July 12.—Quick pickups, while wandering around, getting back to Dave Ferriss, let's revise our opinion of him all over again. . . first everybody said he was wonderful when he was putting together that winning streak for the Boston Red Sox. . . then when some of the clubs began to hit him, some of us said the hitters were getting on to his stuff. . . today he boasts his 14th win against two defeats. . . his latest victory was a 6 to 0, seven-hitter against the Cleveland Indians.

How to win a horse bet, according to Bill Chaplin, the radio commentator, you fly to Paris, make the acquaintance of a restaurant owner who knows something about a horse on the go at the Longchamps, and after due deliberation, you get a small wager down. . . then you see orange silks flash across the finish in front and the restaurant owner is jumping up and down screaming the equivalent of "we're home free."

Babe Herman Back
Babe Herman, cracking old former Brooklyn Dodger here brought back from the Coast league by President Branch Rickey, may be returned to the minors because he failed to bring his own wheel-barrow with which to get himself transported around the bases.

When he got on a base as a pinch-hitter against the Cardinals Sunday, he fell down rounding first and barely beat a throw scrambling back on his hands and knees.

Pavot and Polynesians probably will meet against Saturday at Aqueduct in the Dwyer Stakes at a mile and quarter, and this race will go far to settling supremacy among the three-year-olds. . . or perhaps it will snarl the division up worse.

Polynesians has been in their only two clashes of this year, in the Withers Mile and the mile and three-sixteenths Preckness. . . However, Pavot bounced off those disappointments to a victory in the mile and a half Belmont Stakes. . . Polynesians was an absentee in this one.

Bobby Ruffin will meet Willie Joyce in a 12-rounder at Madison Square Garden on Friday night, provided Ruffin doesn't decide to take a walk before the fight and forget to come back. . . He is barred in New Jersey for some recent antics and the ban may go into effect against him here after this bout, which was signed before he got into difficulty with Jersey officials.

Frisch Shakes Up Pitching Staff

Pirate Manager Will Start Ken Gables And Art Cuccurullo, He Announces

PITTSBURGH, July 12.—(INS)—Frankie Frisch manager of the floundering Pirates, announced today that changes will be made in the roster of his pitching staff.

According to Frisch, either Ken Gables or Art Cuccurullo, or both, will be elevated to starting moundsmen.

The new plan was first put into effect in Boston when Rip Sewell was used as a relief hurler. Sewell had fared badly at the hands of the Boston batters as a starter and when Al Cuccurullo, "Preacher" Roe and Nick Strincevich did no better, the Pirate skipper felt it was time for a change, stating "we can't do anything but shake up the staff."

"The Pirate pitching in Boston was as bad as any I have seen since I came to Pittsburgh," the Boss' manager sorrowfully commented.

County League Games Tonight

Ellwood City At Edenburg; Wampum At Moose; Hillsville At Legion All-Stars

Three Lawrence County baseball games are on the menu for tonight. All games start at 6 o'clock.

Ellwood City, first-half champs will play the Edenburg Tigers at Edenburg tonight (error in paper has night). Hillsville will travel to George Washington field to play the American Legion All-Stars and the Wampum Victory club will journey to Marshall field to battle the Moose club.

Battle At Edenburg
Edenburg will pitch their ace Jesse Exposito against "Spartan" Ferrante, while F. Z. Rodenbusch has nominated Knight to hurl against Heibergers at Marshall field. D. Perrot of the Hillsville team will start Tommasello against the Legion All-Stars at Washington with Sheriff Corn and Mike Duffley choosing either Wimer or Towner to do the flinging.

Three good games are on the program for the fans tonight.

Plenty Of Grid Coach Jobs Open

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., July 12.—(INS)—A family of coaches named today at the Western Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Athletic Council on the football season a scant eight weeks away.

No less than 10 WPAC schools are looking for grid mentors. These include Ligonier, Leechburg, Vandergrift, Derry Borough, Oakmont, McDonald, Avon, Canonsburg, Sharpsburg and East Pittsburgh.

In addition, Earl Bruce at Brookville, James Hudson at Mars and Earl Ewing at Rochester need assistants. It was reported.

Nelson Favored As New PGA Champion

DAYTON, O., July 12.—(INS)—Byron Nelson's chances of winning the $5,000 first place money in the 27th National PGA tournament at Moraine Country club were considered so good today that Dayton banks were ready to issue advance-up to that amount to the formal Toledoan, without a penny of security.

Clear sailing appeared in sight for the tough Texan and he was an odds-on choice to meet either Johnny Revolta of Evanston, Ill. or Ky Laffoon of Chicago in Sunday's championship match over a 36-hole route.

Slidestepping a flurry of major upsets which made casualties out of some of the tournament's brighter lights, including Harold "Bud" Meisen Nelson gave old men par another terrific going over in triumphing off Gee Sarazen's dreams of a fourth PGA title.

Softball Meeting On Friday Night

President Joe Factor of the Industrial softball league has called a special meeting of managers and officials for Friday night at the "Y" at 8:30 o'clock. Plans for the coming second half will be discussed.

Managers should attend the session, as postponed games are yet to be played in the first half and may have a bearing on the championship. These will be arranged at the meeting. A plan is under way to send the New Castle champs to Erie for the state softball title games.

Tom Conti, president of the softball umpires, is asked to attend the meeting.

Brooklyn Club Owner Would Give $300,000 For Marty Marion And Kurowski

Branch Rickey Has Pipe Dreams

Brooklyn Club Owner Would Give $300,000 For Marty Marion And Kurowski

BIG NAME STARS HIGH IN PRICE

By BILL CORUM
(International News Service Staff Writer)
NEW YORK, July 12.—What follows obviously is hearsay about a conversation that is supposed to have taken place not long ago between Boss Branch Rickey of the Dodgers and its manager, Leo Durocher. I say it obviously is hearsay because this bureau has not yet got around to planning a dictaphone in the golfish bowls of Brother Rickey's office.

But as we hear the story, Branch and Leo were talking over some ball player that "The Lip" thought might be of help to the Dodgers.

"Oh, you wouldn't want him, Leo," pronounced the Maharaja. "Not for that sort of money, anyhow. He isn't worth it."

Try And Get Him
"I know he isn't worth it," agreed Durocher. "Not in normal times, that is. But you know what we're up against today. Why, I saw in the paper the other day where the Phillies were offering $250,000 for Marion and Kurowski of the Cardinals. I didn't think the Phillies would offer a quarter million for Father Chadwick and Abner Doubleday."

"Ah," Marion and Kurowski, said Rickey, a reflective gleam came into his eye as he chewed more vigorously on his cigar. "Marion and Kurowski, that's a different story, Leo. Let me tell you, Leo, what I would give for Marion and Kurowski tomorrow morning."

Here, the story has it, Branch paused for effect and leaned over to "tap" Durocher on the knee. "But Marion and Kurowski, Leo, I would give three hundred thousand dollars tomorrow, and no question asked. But why should we wonder off into the land of make believe? We are not going to get Marty and George, Leo, at any price. And neither are the Phillies."

We tell this tale having every reason to believe it true, to illustrate two points. One, the tremendous increase in baseball values from back in the days when the fans gasped over the so-called "hundred thousand dollar infield" and the "eleven thousand dollar infield."

Remember Dead Infield
The "hundred thousand dollar infield" was a sort of joke. You will remember Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletic combination of "Stuffy" McInnis, "Columbia Eddie" Collins, Jack Barry and Frank "Home Run" Baker. And the "eleven thousand dollar infield" was the very-necked Babe Marquard, an erratic southpaw who turned out to be no lemmie at all in the final analysis with McGraw's Giants.

One other point is that even a named big offer of $200,000 for one-half of the St. Louis Cardinals wartime infield is the tip-off on why most baseball men believe the Birds should successfully defend their National league title.

It's true that two players can't win a pennant by themselves. Particularly not a shortstop and third baseman. And more particularly still, if the shortstop isn't too hunky with the pitcher.

Just Pipe Dream
The almost unbelievable Marion and the embattled "Whitely" are the best of the Cards, naturally. We doubt if there are two other players on the same club today who would command the sort of money Hank Greenberg and Hal Newhouse of the Detroit Tigers might demand still want to hear it offered. Nor should it be overlooked that Rickey wasn't really sitting down to write the check, even though Branch is not one to play loose with money, even in fun. I think he'd buy the pair, all right, at that price. Anyhow, that's the story.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

NOT SO long ago Charlie Mayne, former chief gazabo of our city, went fishing and needing someone to tote a minnow bucket the party which included the present mayor, John Haven, invited the writer to go along. No member, excepting the present mayor got any fish (and he didn't get any either because a bass fisherman does not regard carp as fish). However, developments since have caused some of the party to raise eyebrows. In fact, they believe the former mayor who has fished from Atlantic to Pacific and from Bering Sea to Puerto Rico, was "under cover"; that is, he purposely refrained from catching bass because had he done so he would have been required to expose some of his tricks. To further bear this out, there is a story now afloat that said Mayne several days ago went to the Little Neshannock, or the Big Hole, to be precise. Instead of using a crab or a minnow to entice a bass, he put a piece of red flannel on his hook, teased frogs for some time then started to wade the creek. He slung his pole across his shoulder, letting the hook with the piece of red flannel trail through the water. He had taken no more than 10 steps until, from ripples, darted a 2½ pound bass. It grabbed the flannel and "ran." With nonchalance the former mayor reeled it in and saved some red points.

Among those who heard the story was Al Simpson, the w. k. realtor and when he learned that the bass was taken from the Big Hole he recalled when a boy he had accompanied Zeke Pearson of Coalton to that place. He caught four four pound bass in one day. Simpson reported. Incidentally, Ducky Samuels, also one of the better bass fishermen of this district, believes the Neshannock beyond the curve (in the vicinity of the Big Hole) is one of the best spots in Pennsylvania. For years Samuels has consistently "picked up" bass at that point. There are trout also close by. One of those who annually gets his share of trout is Jimmy Cypher. He cottaged there and it was his morning and evening custom to fish the stream on the opposite of the railroad bridge.

It is understood that one of the most widely discussed ordinance passed unanimously by members of council is that which applies to barking dogs. In fact the discussion is not confined wholly to New Castle but has also drawn attention in Farrell. Some dog owners do not like the ordinance. Some people like it. It is aimed at dogs which bark continuously and is very punitive. One of the objectors has told council that one of the main reasons dogs bark considerably is because cats roam at large yet council has never done anything to curb free strolling cats who render back yard work at night. Some cities, it is said, require cats to wear bells to warn birds of their approach. According to a Winter avenue woman a cat crept up a tree a few days ago and killed a wood thrush, a bird reportedly very scarce in this section. She believes council should take steps to give birds protection.
